REASONS WHY
 —THE—
 REMINGTON FAMILY SEWING MACHINES
 Are Superior to All Others.
 FIRST—THEIR SIMPLICITY.
 The use of them is very easily acquired, and any girl of ordinary intelligence is capable of keeping them in order.
 SECOND—THE CONSTRUCTION of the Machine is such that it may be run at a higher rate of speed than any Shuttle Machine now in the market. In factories where the rate of speed has been registered, over 1,000 Stitches per Minute have been attained with ease.
 THIRD—THEIR DURABILITY
 being so strong in all their parts and fitted with great mechanical nicety, and being free from any jar or rattling movements, and friction so common in inferior machines they will wear a long time without repair of any kind.
 FOURTH—THEIR ADAPTABILITY.
 By a simple change of the needle and thread they will sew the finest cambric or the heavy leather.
 FIFTH—THEY HAVE NO ROTARY CAMS,
 Cog-wheels or lever arms to make a noise, run hard, or to get out of order.
 SIXTH—THEY HAVE AN ADJUSTABLE
 Feed which may be raised or lowered at pleasure.
 SEVENTH—ALL THEIR MOVEMENTS are positive and they cannot be thrown out of time.
 Manufactured by the Largest Manufacturing company in America, possessing a worldwide reputation in the manufacture of their firearms, they afford a guarantee of perfection in work and construction.
 No other sewing machine has ever been introduced so quickly and met with such rapid sale as this
REMINGTON
 It arouses the jealousy, opposition and persistent misrepresentation of the older sewing Machine Companies through their agents, and even the old Singer Company, through its agents, devotes the largest part of its advertisements to show that it is not an improved Singer, and that its calculations are upon a false basis.
 With malice toward none, and charity for all, it will be the duty of the agent of the Remington Sewing Machine to afford to all an opportunity of testing its merits with those of any other, and let them make their own selection.

THE DAILY and WEEKLY HERALD has more than double the circulation of any other paper published in Southern California. Business men recognize it accordingly as the best advertising medium South of San Francisco.

TUESDAY, DEC. 28, 1915.

THE Associated Pioneers of the Territorial Days of California, head quarters, Sturtevant House, New York, will hold their annual banquet on the 18th of January.

In quarrelling with and practising cruelty toward her provinces, Turkey has done a great deal in the way of destroying that sympathy and protection which the great powers of Europe have heretofore extended her. In place of sympathy and protection, her champions now propose to introduce "reforms" in that country, and those reforms imply a crushing of the government. The London Times expresses a willingness that so much of the treaty of Paris which prevents foreign intervention between the Sultan and his subjects, shall be rescinded. With this clause goes the shield which has so long stood between the Sultan and annihilation, and the blotting of Turkey from among the nations of the earth may be regarded as one of the near events of the future.

MR. JOHN L. CAMPBELL, Secretary of the Centennial Commission, makes the following suggestion, which should meet the approval and secure the encouragement of every American citizen.

It seems proper that the local celebrations of the Fourth of July, 1876, which will be held throughout the land, should be made to contribute to a permanent historical memorial of the Centennial Celebration. In each county provision should be made for the delivery of an address tracing the history of that particular community for a past period from the time of its settlement, and including a sketch of its growth, its resources, industries, prospects, etc. These addresses should be published in a uniform size, that of the Congressional documents, for instance, in order that they may be bound together by States. To competent persons the preparation of such addresses would not be unduly burdensome task, but in the aggregate they would constitute an invaluable historical repository, such as no nation has ever had the opportunity to collect. Designations of the historians ought to be made without delay, in order that they may have time to accomplish their work. It is to be hoped that the press will give general circulation to the project, and that each journal will see to its consumption in its own locality, and that the slight expense involved be assumed by the county or town authorities.

THE San Diego border warfare will turn out to be a small sized scrimmage. The killing of "six-toed Pete" or PEDRO BADILO, if true, is of small international consequence. He was well known here in connection with his sister, and their lives were anything but edifying. Our charity for the faults of the dead prevents us saying more of these characters that have passed to other scenes, there to render an account of their journey on earth. Judging men by the company they keep would lead us to suppose that at least some of the companions of six-toed Pete in misfortune are but small loss to either Republic. It would not be more than proper to expect that the government would establish a military post near the line of a foreign government, for the protection of national interest, to prevent smuggling, to protect our revenues in every way, and to exercise a wholesome terror over the brigandage of a barbarous outlaw class who enter our Republic as peaceable citizens, but who really come and return as robbers, murderers, outthroats and assassins. The present outcry must not frighten General SCHOFIELD. There are more contracts for supplies involved than any genuine fear of invasion.

An Admission.

The San Francisco Chronicle has reached the conclusion that the day is not distant when all roads will not lead to San Francisco. This is a broad admission from a journal of the city by the sea. It has heretofore been a rare, we may say, an unheard of thing for a San Francisco paper to admit the possible coming of a time when any other place in the State, could divide or draw off a portion of the trade of that city, yet we now have the admission of the Chronicle that Los Angeles bids fair to become a great railroad center and as such to share with the great city the Pacific coast trade. The middle and Northern portion of our State were never favorable to a Southern transcontinental railroad. The San Francisco papers were opposed to the Texas Pacific and when it became apparent that the Scott subsidy bill was doomed to defeat, they made no attempt at concealing their satisfaction. The energy and activity displayed by the Southern Pacific Railroad company, in pushing their line Eastward from this city has received but the faintest commendation from the San Francisco press, but now that the early completion of that road is regarded as a fixed fact, we find the Chronicle realizing what has been apparent to us from the first—the extension of the Union Pacific Railroad into Southern California, and consequent importance of Los Angeles as a railroad center. It is high time our metropolitan cotemporaries made up their minds to accept the inevitable with as good grace as possible. Los Angeles cannot be outcatalogued with the class of tribulation to San Francisco in which are ranked Sacramento, Stockton, San Jose and Vallejo. She is not within reach of the city's attractive powers and is not, like the cities named, drawn into the vortex of the great maelstrom. Los Angeles is a central sun herself and she is the centre of a commercial system which is rapidly extending and will continue to expand until even the great journals which have so long tried to ignore her very existence, will be forced to admit that she is not only a great railroad and commercial center, but destined to soon become the capital of a State. No part of the Pacific coast is improving so rapidly in wealth and population and no part of the State is more rapidly developing rich and varied resources than Southern California.

A Suggestion.

THE Court House property cost the people of Los Angeles county $20,000. It is now worth and can be sold any day for $40,000 cash. The property belongs to the county, the city having no interest as a city in it. The Spring street jail and Council room property is owned jointly by the city and county, and is worth at least $20,000. The Court House property is valuable and will continue to increase in value in the future. The Court House would make a very creditable City Hall, and would answer for the city's public building for a number of years to come. Now suppose the city purchases from the county the Court House, and the county buys the city's half of the Spring street property. The transfer will give the county an eligible site for a Court House and the city will secure a hall which will meet her requirements for ten or twelve years and then sell for double the money paid for it. If the prices paid were those we have named, the county would have a Court House fund of $30,000. It is not our purpose to urge this or any other measure involving expenditure and increased taxation, but as there is considerable discussion on the subject of building a new Court House, we make these suggestions for the consideration of both opponents and advocates of the measure. The county can well afford to dispose of the Court House at the price named, as it cost but half that sum, and she has had the use of it for a long period. The city's half of the Spring street property is estimated to be worth from $6,000 to $10,000, but as it now stands it is of very great value to the municipality.

Another Profit from Artesian Wells.

We have had occasion heretofore to allude to a certain branch of pisciculture that might be rendered very profitable in Los Angeles county and city. It is almost a shame that our Common Council do not propose to some company a lease of a pond, that said company would excavate and turn all the city water into it, and thence draw it out into the respective Zanjals as at present. Such pond, of course, would be established near, or at the point where the water of the river is now taken out. In support of such proposition I will quote, in the first place, an article from the San Francisco Bulletin, and adduce some further suggestions. The article is as follows: "J. A. Popper, of Sonoma, has been successful in raising Carp from an importation made by himself from Germany in 1872. In Germany many thousands of pounds of this favorite fish are sold annually every year. The farmers here who are engaged in pisciculture have from five to seven ponds. The smallest is the breeding pond, from which the others are stocked. The contents of one pond are sold every year. Numbers of the fish are floated down the rivers and carried in large boxes pierced with holes, through which the water passes in and out, thus delivering the Carp to the consumer alive and fresh. They are a fish that need but little attention, are hardy, pay well and do exceedingly well on this continent. Their food may consist of wheat, barley, corn, peas, bran, sour milk, or in fact, anything. When well fed they will grow one inch per week for the first two or three months, after which they will grow slower. They will, however, increase rapidly in weight. It will not do to breed them in ponds where any game fish are kept, as they will eat the young of the game fish. Popper arrived from Rhinefeldt, Holstein, in August, 1872, bringing with him six fish, six inches long. They were placed in a pond, and in the following month the young had grown to sixteen inches in length, and the young fish numbered over three thousand."

I think I have heretofore stated that the Carp was not only a most desirable table-fish, but also an exceedingly prolific and rapid grower. Any citizen can interview Mr. Popper by letter or otherwise, and obtain, doubtless, more definite information on the subject. I will take it for granted that there are three hundred flowing artesian wells in Los Angeles county. Now, possibly, there are more, or even a less number, but for the purpose of developing the suggestion, I will assume that number. Agassiz and Green have estimated that one cubic foot of water (pure) will support one fish—i. e., as an element; food, of course not included. Now, let us see what we can do with an artesian well that flows 72 cubic inches per minute; that is half a foot, or 180 cubic feet per hour, or 4,230 cubic feet per day. If we assume a pond, say forty feet square by four feet deep, such a well will hold 640 cubic feet of water. This small well will fill such a pond five and a half times in twenty-four hours; or a pond 220 feet square by 4 feet deep, which will contain 11,500 cubic feet of water. The establishment of such a pond can be accomplished at about the usual price that it would cost to raise an ordinary vegetable garden. If we follow out the results of the above premises, we can scarcely help feeling astonished at the fact that no one has attempted to reap the fruits of such a vast field. Just think of it—where land commands so much money—11,500 Carps, weighing in twelve months from the egg, say, (low average) three pounds. We should have 34,500 pounds of delicious fish to put on the market. It will be seen that the small artesian well can be flowed into a pond, and thence used for irrigation, and thus be made not only a help in the way of water, but a continuing contributor to the absolute wants of the family, and many of the domestic animals. It is the best thing, the very best and of craved food. It seems almost barbarous that no efforts have been made here in the very easy and entertaining and also most necessary department of industry. I believe, however, Mr. Shorb has broken the ice in the matter by the introduction of a certain class of lake fish in his ponds at Lake Vineyard—what particular species is not known. But the good, hardy, herbivorous, grainivorous—anything but carnivorous, Carp is the very fish for our artesian ponds. It is simple by far to raise Carp than sheep; and a pond 220 feet square by 4 feet deep is five hundred per cent. cheaper than a stud of fifty of the finest brood mares.

Riverside Items.

[From the News of the 25th.] Riverside has some of the best nurseries in the State. Riverside can boast of two women weighing 200 pounds each. The North winds which prevailed for several days this week, were much more severe in many other parts of the county than at Riverside. The farmers of Riverside are making extensive preparations for planting trees the coming season. From a great many parts of the country we hear the cry for more rain, but the Santa Ana River never fails to give an abundant supply of water for the farmers of Riverside.

The suspension of the Commercial Bank, of San Francisco, is announced. Liabilities unknown; also, assets. A horrible murder was committed in San Francisco on Saturday morning. Louis Lassie kicked his wife to death. There is hardly a portion of her body without great bruises from his heavy boots. Mrs. Lassie has been an invalid for some time, but was able to do her housework. Christmas eve she went down and purchased turkey for next day's dinner, and on returning she and her husband got to quarrelling, when he knocked her down and began kicking her. Next morning she died. The inhuman brute is in jail charged with murder. It commenced raining in San Francisco on Saturday, and last night the storm had progressed as far South as Caliente.

At a meeting of the Ministerial Union of San Francisco on Friday, Moody and Sanky were invited to visit San Francisco at their earliest convenience. It is understood they will come at an early day.

Christmas was generally observed in New York though the day was foggy, with a drizzling rain. A public meeting of American residents in Berlin has been called for Wednesday next to protest against the insults offered to Americans generally by the German press in commenting upon the crime of Thompson, alias Alexander, the author of the Mosel disaster.

Dispatches received in London from the seat of war in Herzegovina state that a great battle took place on Thursday last near Nitchiliza. The Turkish troops were engaged. The Turkish troops claim a decisive victory. The fighting on both sides was desperate and the losses severe.

Friday night, Abington, Ill., was thrown into a fever of excitement by the arrest and execution of Orin Perkley, President of Abington College, an institution belonging to the Christian denomination there. There have been two factions in the town for some time, growing out of the removal of the former President, J. M. Butler, and the installation of Mr. Perkley, a most disgraceful demonstration being made. The entire village seemed embroiled. On Friday night, Christmas services were being held in the College building. During the evening two drunken ruffians, belonging to the anti-Perkley faction, named Homex, Lampkin and Gabriel created a disturbance in the corridors. President Perkley undertook to quiet them when Lampkin hit him with a billy, and he fell mortally wounded. The boys were arrested and are in jail. At last accounts Perkley was still alive, but the doctors agree that his recovery is impossible.

The mourners gathered around a pole in part in one of the most picturesque funerals ever witnessed in the county.

San Diego Items.

[From the Union 25th Inst.] We learn that a young man was accidentally shot through the foot while out gunning in the Sweetwater Valley yesterday afternoon, but have not heard the particulars, or the extent of the injury. Nothing further has been heard from Lower California of the rumored massacre at San Rafael, and in the absence of contradictory tidings the truth of the story is very generally doubted. Aside from the report brought by the messenger from Guadalupe ranch, the latest advices from San Rafael were of Monday last, when all was quiet there. A meeting of sheep owners was held here on Thursday, at which resolutions were adopted setting forth the importance of the wool interest in this county and the necessity of action for its protection. It was also resolved to memorialize the State Legislature and Congress in behalf of legislation to encourage wool growing in Southern California, and for such an amendment of the revenue laws as to permit the free export of wool sheared from American sheep in Lower California.

Wilder, is editor of the State of Kansas and the most brilliant editor in the Missouri valley.

Railroad Meeting.

The District Court Room was crowded last night, and the meeting was called to order by Mr. H. D. Barrows.

Col. Warner was unanimously elected Chairman and Mr. W. H. J. Brooks Secretary.

Col. Warner briefly stated the object of the meeting to be a connection via the Southern Utah and Union Pacific to the Atlantic.

Mr. H. D. Barrows stated that the Committee had written to Senator Jones and received a response.

The response by telegraph was in effect as follows:

It was dated San Francisco, Dec. 27th, and signed John P. Jackson. It said the communication of the Committee had been highly gratifying to Senator Jones and he entirely agreed with the Committee that the railroad scheme in question would make Los Angeles second only to San Francisco.

The railroad connection East can not fail to secure that position. He is pleased to join Los Angeles in its present effort and to see that the people were ready to make great sacrifices to attain their end.

After the reading of this dispatch, Col. Howard was announced and took the stand.

He related the fable of the praying teamster whose wagon was mired, and Hercules, wherein the heathen god assured him that he would not assist him unless he helped himself. A long statement of the trade we had lost since railroads were introduced, and a statement of taxes followed. He then exhibited a map and laid out an air line to the terminus of the Southern Utah railroad. He said the proposition to-night, and he was authorized to make it, was for the citizens of Los Angeles to subscribe $400,000 to this railroad connection. Can they do it? The estimate of the tonnage of Los Angeles is 80,000 tons of imports and 30,000 tons of exports, total, 110,000 tons of ocean tonnage. This little road to Santa Monica has reduced freights from $12 per ton to $5 per ton, making a saving of $7 per ton. This would make an annual reduction of $770,000 made by this little 14 mile road. The distance from Ogden to Santa Monica is 640 miles, while from Ogden to San Francisco is 900 miles. The proposition is to ask the citizens of Los Angeles to subscribe $400,000 out of their saving in freights, to build a road 120 miles to Mojave river. From Salt Lake south the Mormons have built 120 miles of railroad, leaving a vacuum of 400 miles to be built by John P. Jones and Jay Gould. They will build it! Why should we hesitate to give $400,000 out of our saving in freights? This does not interfere with the Los Angeles and Independence railroad which will be extended into the Inyo country. Gentlemen, unless you get this road Los Angeles will drop into a decadence by means of the working of railroads. "I have shown you how our railroads have subtracted from our mercantile resources, and this is our opportunity to become a great railroad center. John P. Jones thinks as much of himself as he does of Los Angeles. He has built a road out of his own resources and it is a success. Jones is human. He is in accord with your projects. He gives you the preference, but if the Southern Pacific or any other corporation offers him his price he would be an ass not to take it, in case you do not help yourselves. I have shown you facts and figures and the importance of this road." And with these remarks he closed.

Judge O'Melveny and Gen. Eastman were called for but did not appear.

Col. Howard again appeared and said that he believed this was a question concerning merchants and that should be turned into a mercantile convention.

Mr. Barrows was no speaker, but agreed with Col. Howard that this should be a mercantile party. This was the natural outlet of the Salt Lake basin, and the projected railroad was the shortest route to Salt Lake and the Atlantic. He believed the Santa Monica harbor could accommodate the steamers from China and Panama, and become the terminus of a trans-continental system of railroads. The day was not far distant when Los Angeles and San Bernardino valleys would feed a population of a million.

Mayor Beaudry was called for but did not respond.

Col. Crawford said Col. Howard's statement of the ground. He had furnished him some statistics, but would prefer merchants to do the talking. He believed the road was an immediate necessity to this country.

Mr. Ayres thought that unless we push this railroad out and bring the Union Pacific westward, the city of Los Angeles will, within a moderate reach, have attained her greatest commercial prosperity. With that road Los Angeles will become a great city, but without it can not. Every man loyal to the progressive future must give his whole and undivided support to this project. He presented a series of resolutions asking that work be immediately resumed between this city and Cajon Pass; that the L. A. & P. R. R. be requested to call an assessment on the present subscription, and that the committee aid in getting up additional subscriptions to the L. A. & P. R. R. stock.

The resolutions were adopted on motion of W. H. Workman.

In answer to a question by the President Col. Crawford stated that freight could be taken to San Francisco via Santa Monica from the East cheaper than by the Central Pacific.

On motion of Mr. Ayres the committee or their substitutes were authorized to proceed to Salt Lake to negotiate with railroad men for this proposed road.

The finance committee was authorized to collect the necessary funds.

Mr. Barrows notified the people that $275,000 had been subscribed, and these resolutions mean that the assessment must be paid. He hoped all subscribers would pay promptly, and he hoped those that had not subscribed would do so.

Col. Crawford said the effect of the building of this road would fill the valleys with people, and the Southern Pacific, even, would do a large business. There was no conflict between this road and the Southern Pacific.

Mr. Barrows said this road would bring thousands of health-seekers to this section.

The Chair said that a large amount of travel to San Francisco from the East would be carried by this road and through this city. Freight going East would come to this point from San Francisco, thus avoiding the Sierra Nevada delays.

Mr. Barrows thought we could say God-speed to the Southern Pacific, but we needed more roads and a reasonable competition.

Adjourned.

The Press Banquet.

Messrs. Swales & Cuyas, of the Pico House, tendered a dinner to the members of the Press of Los Angeles, and the interesting event took place on Sunday night at seven o'clock. Quite a number of the newspaper men of the city and the ladies were present, and the affair took place with all due decorum and Sabbath solemnity. The private banquet room was elegantly decorated, and the spread was a most magnificent one. Capt. Swales presided at one end of the table, and Mr. Cuyas at the other, and the guests for an hour abandoned themselves to a discussion of the good things from the storehouse and the way the good things disappeared was a flattering testimonial to the cuisine of the house. There was very little time for toasts, though a few were attempted. "The Pico House" was always considered to be the head of the hotel system of Los Angeles, was responded to by Captain Swales. "The Press," "The Ladies," and other impromptu toasts followed in rapid succession were answered by the members of the Press. The festivities lasted about an hour and half, and a more elegant and complete banquet has never been our good fortune to enjoy. The courses followed each other in rapid succession, and with tables beautifully ornamented with bouquets and evergreens, the entertainment was superb. Such a time is seldom seen as the new year is about commencing, we say "Success to the Pico House and to our printing pressmen, Swales & Cuyas, who appreciate the service of newspapers and the value of printers' ink."

In selecting a site for a residence it should combine a healthy location, with pleasant surrounding and be in proximity to the city. The Washington Garden Tract combines all these advantages, being on the line of the Main street horse railway, being planted in semi-tropical fruits, and surrounded by some of the most elegant residences in Los Angeles. For beauty of landscape, healthy position and magnificent view those lots are unsurpassed. In a few years these lots will be worth thousands where they now sell for hundreds and an opportunity will be given to purchasers to get the property at their own figures on Monday, at which time Jones & Noyes will sell them to the highest bidder.

Madame Casiera, next door to Turn-Verein hall, has an elegant stock of the latest Parisian styles of hats, bonnets and imported millinery goods. The latest steamers brought a fine stock suitable for holiday presents. Give Madame Casiera a call and she will give you a hat or bonnet fit for a princess. Her bonnets are worn by all our stylish ladies.

Turn-Verein Germania have a grand entertainment on New Year's eve. Doors open at 8 o'clock, dancing commences at 9, and the New Year's tree will be lighted at 10 o'clock. It will be one of the finest entertainments of the Winter season, and will be largely attended.

Mr. Wm. Condit's friends paid him a surprise visit last evening at his father's residence, on Hill street, between Second and Third. The occasion was his twenty-first birthday, and dancing, music and valuable presents were the order of the evening.

A gushing young man of this city frequently receives little communications from his adorable, and when any one is around he kisses the postage stamp and says "Her coral lips have touched it." &c. He was horrified on Christmas day to ascertain that the Chinese cook mailed the letters and licked the stamps. He feels bad ever since when coral lips are mentioned.

Mr. J. S. Smith has a few bushels of the famous Red Antwerp and Black Cap Raspberries, which he can furnish to customers in limited quantities. These varieties commenced bearing in June and bear until the following January. They are the most delicious and hardy raspberries that can be found, being well suited for this climate.

Charles V. Hall & Co. have money to loan on approved security in sums of $500 to $25,000. Special attention given to negotiations of loans. Stocks and bonds of all kinds bought and sold on commission. 428 1/2.

If you are wanting to buy a Sewing Machine, try a new Wilson and you will have no regret.

A trial will convince the most skeptical of its superiority over all others, being adjustable in all its parts, every movement being positive, with a perfect tension and adjustable feed. It is simple, strong, durable and cheap, light and perfect running, doing all the different varieties of sewing from the finest fabric to the heaviest cloth or leather.

The latest improved Wilson will not run backwards, thereby avoiding the breakage of needles and thread and necessitating the removal of the goods from the machine while winding the bobbins as is the case with all other machines. HIGHEST PREMIUM AT THE WORLD'S FAIR, Vienna 1874. A very important improvement has lately been added to the Wilson. Call and see it before purchasing elsewhere. To try one is to buy one.

CHOICE REAL ESTATE.

Situated in the centre of the city, viz:

Ninety-seven Lots

FRONTING ON TEMPLE STREET.

On the East side of Pearl, and South of Canal and Broadway streets. About four minutes walk from Temple Block.

The Surveyor is now at work surveying these lots. They are not to be laid out in the stereotyped style, in square blocks—in order to get the greatest number of lots, with no regard to the grades of the streets—but

This Tract is Laid out in

Park Form.

Each street is made to conform to the topography of the land, thus preserving the natural formation, and reducing the cost of grading to the minimum.

PARK VIEW TRACT

Commands a view of my Park, which will, in a short time, be the Most Beautiful Spot in the Country.

Already several thousand trees have been planted, and walks and drives made, and fountains constructed, at a great expense.

WATER

Is Already on the Tract.

As soon as the map and survey are completed, the lots will be offered at private sale, on the installment plan, as follows, viz:

On lots worth from $300 to $400, $20 per month; and on all lots worth more than $400, $25 per month—both with interest at one per cent. per month on the unpaid balance.

Parties desiring to pay in full for their lots before the installments become due, in and for that privilege.

I will hold these terms open till January 1st.

Parties who make one payment on a lot and then once possession by building a house, and avoid the great expense of paying rent, and in a short time, by the saving of the interest on the mortgage, can pay for their lot. Meantime,
